STEADILY INCREASED DEVELOPMENT SHOWN BY TONOPAH MINING

Both footings of development and tonnage raised from the three shafts of the property of the Tonopah Mining company showed a material improvement during the seven-day period ending January 9. The increase in tonnage was 300 tons over the week previous, a total of 1450 tons having been raised and sent to mill during the weekly period. Total development work increased from 227 feet to 265.5 feet in the same period.

The principal feature of the week's development was the work accomplished in raise 264 of the Silver Top shaft. In this raise there has been encountered 1 1/2 feet of good ore that is believed to be the downward extension of stope 128 from which so much excellent ore has been shipped in the past. Conditions about the mine and mill are thoroughly satisfactory, both being run to capacity at the present time.

The official report of the company operations for the week ending January 9, as given out today by the mine management, follows:

Silver Top Shaft.

Drift 125 east made the usual progress on a high-grade stringer.

ARGENTITE IS BUSY SECTION PRESENT TIME

The Sanger mine at Argentite is quite a busy place, despite the fact that the surrounding hills are covered with about 3 feet of snow at the present time. Frank Taylor, the superintendent, succeeded in getting the new plant of machinery on the ground just one day previous to the recent big storm. Since then a force of 14 men has been engaged in installing the equipment and it was announced Sunday that the machinery will be ready to be put into commission by Saturday of this week.

No work has been performed in the shaft, which has a depth of 100 feet, for the last four weeks, but drifting will be resumed both east and west from the 100 level just as soon as the preliminaries are completed. A fine face of ore is reported as being in evidence in both workings, and it is the intention of Mr. Taylor to proceed with the blocking out of ore reserves to insure steady shipments being maintained during the coming summer.

Reports from the Ecklund property, which lies across the hill from the Sanger mine, are to the effect that a splendid ore showing is taking place. Shaft sinking is still in progress and it is the intention of L. E. Ecklund, who is in charge of operations, to sink to a depth of 200 feet before any drifting or cross-cutting is started. This property has also been equipped with a complete plant of machinery, which greatly facilitates the work now under way.

That Argentite will proceed to give a good account of itself during the next few months is no longer questioned. The district has been proven to have a five-mile mineralization area, and in view of the fact that scores of locations have been made during the past year, and that prospecting has resulted in numerous surface finds being made, the outlook is most favorable for the district becoming the scene of great activity in due course of time, or with the advent of good weather.

PIEDMONT COMPANY TO START SINKING

Active development will be undertaken during the course of the next few days on the property of the Piedmont Mining company at Royston. These holdings were recently secured from Briz Putman by a San Francisco brokerage firm, and plans are now formulating whereby the property will receive thorough exploration. It is stated that a splendid surface showing is in evidence as a result of trenching, and it is near this point that a shaft will be started.

According to Briz Putman, who returned Sunday from a visit to the coast, the new company is meeting with liberal response which insures ample capital being available to carry proposed plans to a successful conclusion.
